SILICA SAND USES

HERE ARE TYPES OF SILICA SAND WE OFFER AND COMMON USES

INDUSTRIAL SILICA SAND, FOUNDRY SAND

This type of silica sand is commonly used in industries such as construction and foundry. Uniformly sized, high quality. The sand is bounded to form molds or patterns used for ferrous (iron & steel) and non ferrous (aluminum, copper, brass) metal castings. It's known for its high purity and exceptional strength, making it ideal for molding, core-making, and as a proppant in hydraulic fracturing.

GLASS MAKING SILICA SAND

With its high silica content and low iron content, this type of silica sand is perfect for glass manufacturing. It helps create clear, high-quality glass products like bottles, windows, and solar panels.

FILTER MEDIA SILICA SAND

Used in water filtration systems, this silica sand is carefully selected for its uniform particle size and excellent filtration properties. It effectively removes impurities and sediments, ensuring clean and safe drinking water.

CONSTRUCTION SILICA SAND

This type of silica sand is commonly used in construction projects, such as concrete production, masonry, and asphalt mixes. It provides strength, stability, and durability to various construction applications.

Our dedicated team ensures that our products undergo rigorous testing and adhere to the highest standards of purity and consistency.

So, whether you're in need of silica sand for construction, glassmaking, filtration, or any other application, trust Silica Sand Exports to provide you with the finest quality sand. We're here to help you succeed in your projects.
